

Tasks and Requirements of a CDHK Professorship(SAIC VW)

The CDHK professorship is financed by Tongji University and the sponsor company SAIC Volkswagen Co., Ltd., not by the company alone. For this reason, this is (initially) only a call for tenders within the School of Automotive Studies SAS and is addressed to professors already working there.

Full professors, associate professors and - in order to promote young scientists - also assistant professors can apply. Assistant professors can apply if it can be assumed that a promotion to associate professorship takes place within the term of the CDHK professorship.

The professorship has tasks and obligations in research and teaching. In particular, the teaching must be devoted to the continuation of the CDHK/SAS double master's degree program with Germany and includes foreign language offers, especially for German students.

The exact distribution of tasks is determined in an annual target agreement by mutual agreement with SAS and CDHK and taking into account the donor's interests.

The professorship will be assigned to the Sino-German Center for Automobile, which was founded in the SAS and will take special care of cooperation with German partner universities.

The finances of the chair are managed by the CDHK.
